Indigenous Studies Research Network QUT and UQ Critical Reading Group for postgraduate students and early career researchers

Thinking with Derrida: law, justice and sovereignty

DATE: 15 October 2010 Friday
TIME: 10am to 4pm
Location: B Block, Room 309, Indigenous Studies Research Network Seminar Room, Kelvin Grove Campus QUT

A book of Readings for the event will be available from Dr Fiona Nicoll, the office of the English, Media Studies and Art History School, 4th Floor, Michie Building, St Lucia campus UQ or the Indigenous Studies Research Office, B309, Kelvin Grove campus QUT. It is expected that all participants will have completed the readings prior to the event to enable active participation.

Facilitators are: Dr Fiona Nicoll, Lecture, School of English, Media Studies and Art History and Dr Trish Luker, Postdoctoral Research Fellow, TC Beirne School of Law from The University of Queensland. Dr Nicoll and Dr Luker are also research affiliates of the Indigenous Studies Research Network.

For catering purposes please let us know your dietary requirements as morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea will be provided. If you wish to participate in this reading group please register by contacting Kelly Roberts on isrn@qut.edu.au or 3138 8611.