

INDIGENOUS STUDIES RESEARCH NETWORK

FACULTY OF EDUCATION

INDIGENOUS PEOPLE AND THE LAW SYMPOSIUM

Tuesday 29th September 2009

Keynote Speaker: Associate Professor Irene Watson
University of South Australia.

The Indigenous Studies Research Network's annual symposium for 2009 will focus on Indigenous People and the Law. The Keynote speaker for the plenary session of the symposium is Associate Professor Irene Watson, an internationally recognised leading Indigenous scholar whose published work on the Law has been cited extensively. The purpose of this symposium is to bring together a variety of scholars from various disciplines to examine how the legacy of colonisation is perpetuated within legal doctrine and to provide new forms of critique that could lead to the development of new legal theories.

The symposium will be held at QUT's Kelvin Grove campus, Room A105 on Tuesday 29th September 2009 from 9am – 5pm with registration commencing at 8:15am.

There will be no cost in registering and morning, afternoon tea and lunch will be provided.

Please return registration form to Cindy Prior on ci.prior@qut.edu.au or fax (07) 3138 0690 by 21st September 2009.

If you would like addition information please contact Cindy Prior on (07) 3138 0635 or e ci.prior@qut.edu.au

